

Michael J. Hacker
michael@mjhacker.com
480.330.1807

Core Skills

- Web technologies (XHTML/CSS, JavaScript, PHP/MySQL, Flash)
- Adobe Photoshop / Illustrator / Dreamweaver
- Macintosh and Windows savvy
- Pro Audio Applications (Pro Tools)
- Microsoft Visual Studio .NET (academic exposure)
- Networking (academic exposure)
- Hardware / Software
- Business Systems Analysis
- Multilingual (Japanese and Russian)
- Experienced teacher

Education

- Bachelor of Science in Information Technology, University of Phoenix
- Combat Interrogation Course, Fort Humphreys, Republic of Korea
- Defense Strategic Debriefing Course, Fort Huachuca, AZ
- Quality Management Training, Misawa Air Base, Japan
- Equal Opportunity Training, Yokota Air Base, Japan
- Japanese, University of Maryland, Asian Division
- Cryptologic Linguist Course, Goodfellow Air Force Base, TX
- Honor Graduate, Defense Language Institute Russian Basic Course, Monterey, CA
- United States Air Force Basic Training

Work Experience

Freelance Web Developer

Chandler, Arizona

August 2006 - Present

Built websites for various clients on an contractual basis.

Collins College

Tempe, Arizona

January 2001 - August 2006

Senior Multimedia Instructor. Taught adult students XHTML, JavaScript, CSS, Flash/Actionscript, Director/Lingo, PHP/MySQL and programming logic. Developed, implemented, and maintained new curricula, trained and mentored instructors, and performed various administrative duties.

Lead Instructor for Curriculum. Selected by the Director of Education to oversee development of new curricula for all programs across two campuses.

Contact Designs

Scottsdale, Arizona

January 2000 - December 2001

Senior Web Developer. Built and maintained dynamic websites for clients and worked with them to meet their needs in an accurate, timely manner.

Subia Corporation

Phoenix, Arizona

June 1998 - December 1999

Web Designer/Developer. Built and maintained corporate websites for clients such as Honeywell, HES Innovations, Arizona State University, Avnet, Resort Golf, and the Subia Corporation. Performed server maintenance tasks under Windows NT using IIS 4.0. Sole PC hardware technician.

National Security Agency (NSA)

Fort George G. Meade, Maryland

June 1997 - June 1998

Intelligence Analyst. Scanned material for information of intelligence value, conducted research, and wrote reports to satisfy a diverse customer set, including military commanders, multinational consumers, and the National Command Authority, which includes the President of the United States and the Secretary of Defense.

Watch Officer, National Security Operations Center. Acted as the National Security Agency's focal point for all incoming and outgoing information pertaining to a major world crisis. Directly supported military operations and policy makers in Washington, D.C. Responded to queries from and prepared daily reports for such customers as the White House, the National Security Council, the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), the Pentagon, and various foreign allies. Ensured the safety of American military forces deployed as part of the United Nations Preventive Deployment (UNPREDEP) force.

Federal Bureau of Investigation

New York City, New York

October 1996 - January 1997

Translator. Provided translation support for a highly sensitive investigation.

315th Intelligence Squadron

Yokota Air Base, Japan

February 1994 - April 1997

Chief of Open Source Information. Developed and implemented the first Air Intelligence Agency open-source electronic media exploitation cell in the Pacific Theater of operations. Identified equipment needs and performed installation and set-up of computer systems. Attended periodical OSINT training with the 500th Military Intelligence Group, Camp Zama, Japan. Recognized by peers and seniors alike as an Internet/World Wide Web expert. Created a unit briefing in PowerPoint for presentation to Ambassador Walter Mondale.

Linguist Debrief/Interrogator. Collected and reported perishable general military intelligence information using Human Resources Intelligence (HUMINT) methods under the auspices of the Defense Intelligence Agency. Awarded a Meritorious Citation by the Director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) for support to the Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty. Trained to interrogate enemy prisoners of war in support of Air Force objectives. Translated documents into English and developed foreign-language instructional materials. Liaison to officers of the Japan Air Self Defense Forces.

Misawa Cryptologic Operations Center*Misawa Air Base, JapanDecember 1988 - December 1993*

Cryptolinguist. Monitored and transcribed selected voice communications using sophisticated electronic equipment valued in excess of $200,000. Ensured timely reporting of highly sensitive, perishable information. Received special recognition from the Defense Special Missile and Astronautics Center for single-handedly providing coverage of a rare, high-interest event.

Awards and HonorsJoint Service Achievement Medal

Awarded for meritorious service while assigned to the National Security Operations Center, National Security Agency/Central Security Service in support of Operations Provide Promise, Deliberate Force, Joint Endeavor, and Joint Guard.

National Intelligence Meritorious Unit Citation

Awarded for "outstanding direction, implementation, and support for the baseline inspection period of the Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty" and "played an essential role in ensuring that the United States inspection was conducted in a professional and thorough manner. Under the auspices of the DCI's (Director, Central Intelligence) Arms Control Intelligence Staff, the team provided an excellent example of the Intelligence Community's ability to carry out the mandate of the DCI and the United States Government on matters vital to national security and reflects credit upon its members and their respective agencies."

[signed]

John Deutch

Director of Central Intelligence

Air Force Achievement Medal

Awarded for "debriefing and reporting skills during an intense treaty verification inspection period [resulting in] over 40 reports responding to national-level requirements." I was also recognized for my "superior bilingual abilities" due to my development of "Japanese-language debriefing instruction materials to aid officers of the Japan Air Self-Defense Force." Finally, "as a qualified combat interrogator," I provided "valuable training to aircrews while role-playing as the enemy during ... Survival, Evasion, Resistance, and Escape" exercises.

Air Force Achievement Medal

Received special recognition from the Defense Special Missile and Astronautics Center for providing coverage of a rare, high-interest event.

Other Qualifications

- Possessed and maintained a TOP SECRET security clearance with Special Background Investigation (TS/SBI) from 1988 to 1998; clearance and access retired upon separation from military service.
- NSA Security Polygraph (June 1997)
- Fluent in Japanese and well-versed in contemporary Japanese culture
- Fluent in Russian
- Translator for Aikido Journal, a premier international martial arts magazine.
- Interpreter for the Special Olympics in Japan.
- Interpreter for Aikido Journal's 1st Annual Aiki Expo in Las Vegas, NV
- Fourth degree black belt in Jiyushinkai Aiki Budo.
- Excellent public speaking skills
- Guitarist and recording hobbyist